Welcome to our United Parish Service

At our United Parish Service today, we share the Eucharist duties with members of our fellow Parish churches: St Stephens in Clanfield and St James in Aston, and they work together with us as one team today.

It symbolises the bond we encourage in our Parish which was evident in the Induction ceremony for Janice our new vicar, three short weeks ago.

We also welcome today the congregants from Aston, Clanfield, Lew and Shifford who have joined us in our service this morning.

Best wishes – Douglas J. Clare – Churchwarden

Memories of Bampton

This excellent Facebook site is well worth a visit. New photographs and memories of Bampton are being continually added. Bampton Community Archive is a regular contributor.

Bampton Oxfordshire (Bampton-In-The-Bush) is another excellent local Facebook site for Bampton news, views and photographs.

Messy Church

Messy Church is on October 7th from 3-5pm. All are welcome. If you have not experienced Messy Church before but would like to, then please come along.

Coffee & Co.

"Coffee & Co" gather together every Monday in Bampton Coffee House between 10.30 & 11.30 a.m., for company & fellowship.

Bampton Families Exhibition

Even if your family was not an original 'Bampton Family', call in to the Vesey Room and read the fascinating stories of the people and families who contributed to making Bampton the special place it is today. See the beautiful photographs that afford a glimpse of the past.

Many of the families, for whom Family Trees are available in The Vesey Room, have family members who originated from Aston, Clanfield and Lew. Many familiar names will be recognised.

The exhibition runs until the end of October.

Weekly Prayer Meeting

St. Mary's provides a Weekly Prayer Meeting and two Bible Study/Discussion Groups.
